24th FOOTBALL SEASON ENDS IN GLADES

1st. Glades Team, 1930

Only the annual Lion's football banquet Dec. 18 and the all-Suncoast team listings remain to close out the 24th year of gridiron derring-do in the Glades.

Since 1930, the Glades communities have been ardent gridiron fans, starting with the inspiration of Rev. Joe Tolle, pastor of Pahokee First Methodist Church, who coached the first team.

3-3 Record

The first team had a 3-3 record of wins and losses, Gold said. The players (there was only one substitute, one of the Spooners then weighing less than 100 lbs.) wore shoes with cleats nailed on them. When the cleats fell out, games "got pretty bloody" because the nails remained in the shoes, Gold said.

There were no age rules for the team at that time, and some of the players were older than the coach. The team scrimmaged with the male school teachers, and nearly every able-bodied man in school was recruited for football. One of the first-year players was the late Jack Winne, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ross Winne, now of Chosen, whose youngest brother, Ross, has just finished his 10th and last year of high school and college football as a star tackle for the University of Florida Gators.

In 1931, Frank Hobson, now principal of Belle Glade high school, became the combined school's first football coach. Elbert Bishop was principal and Rev. Mr. Tolle continued on the coaching end he began the year before.

Peak Enthusiasm

Enthusiasm was reaching a peak that year, with all of the Glades communities giving the team backing, a Rotary-backed Athletic Council being formed, and funds gathered by passing the hat at the games.

The gridiron battles were fought where the Pahokee elementary school now stands, Gold remembers, and of course there were no stands. The spectators (Continued on Page 8)

POST OFFICE HOLIDAY SKED

BELLE GLADE — The Belle Glade post office will remain open until 8 p.m. on Saturday, Dec. 18, George P. Farnall, local postmaster announced this week. On Sunday, Dec. 19, there will be two mail dispatches and two received for delivery to alleviate the heavy mailings which are anticipated during Christmas week, he said.

On Sunday, Dec. 19, the local post office will open all winter mail money orders, 10 a.m. until 5 p.m. It is hoped that mailers of gifts and cards will avail themselves of these additional hours of service, and that the movement of the mail will not be hampered by having an excessive volume of outgoing mail at any one time.

For those mailers who may wish to expedite handling and delivery of their cards or gifts they should avail themselves of air mail, special delivery or special handling services, or combinations, Farnall suggested. Christmas gifts of exceptional value should be registered, and others should be insured. Small articles such as watches, and other articles of jewelry should always be registered.

Extra Tips
Every possible means of insuring prompt service to the public will be taken, according to Farnall. Additional tips by carriers to residential areas will be made daily when the quantity of mail warrants. All parcels will be delivered as addressed, when received. Additional window service will also be available at all times. On Christmas day the parcel post window, only, will be open from 9 a.m. until noon for the delivery of parcels.

10 Accidents This Week, With 2 Dead

A bumble bee and 27 persons were involved in 10 Glades accidents this week which left two men dead and 13 persons injured, Florida Highway Patrol files reveal.

Most recent fatality occurred yesterday morning on US 27 seven and one half miles south of South Bay when Frank E. Black, Miami, failed to negotiate a curve at excessive speed, and lost control of his car which turned over two and one half times. Black died of a fractured skull and other injuries received when he was hurled from the overturning vehicle, according to the FHP report.

Edward W. Appley, St. Petersburg, lost control of his car and turned over once about four miles east of Canal Point on SR 700 when a bee flew into his car on Tuesday.

On Sunday 11 persons were injured when the Kaiser sedan driven by Jack Jones of Miami struck the GMC ½ ton truck driven by Grady Brunson of South Bay. The truck was turning off SR 25 when Jones, apparently heedless of the left turn signal, rammed it. Damage to both vehicles was $1,200, according to Highway Patrol records.

Two persons were injured on SR 80 near Lake Harbor when a Ford tractor trailer driven by

Carle Fired Last Night, May Be Hired Tonight

BELLE GLADE — A young man named Tom Carle will meet with City Commission tonight in executive session to apply for the job of city manager of Belle Glade.

Carle has been city manager of Belle Glade for the past 11 months, but after an unprecedented series of developments at a Commission meeting last night, he will appear before city fathers as a new applicant.

Tonight's executive session at 8 o'clock was called by Mayor Harold Rabin after a stormy meeting last night. Between 8 and 11 p. m., the Commission fired Carle by a 3-2 vote. It could not continue its session when an audience of some 200 citizens descended wrathfully upon it, and it finally re-considered to the extent of trying to work out difficulties with Carle tonight.

Commissioner Herman Close moved that Carle be immediately relieved of his duties, be paid through December and that ads be placed for a new city manager. Commissioners Close, Rabin and H. O. Carlton voted for the motion and Walter Ashley and Zack Ingram voted against it.

The motion came late in the meeting after Commissioner Carlton had read a bill of particulars accusing Carle of dereliction of duty in the performance of his office. Carlton specified that Carle had not kept the Mayor properly informed of his whereabouts and introduced as examples city bills for which he claimed Carle had not signed purchase orders.

Carle pointed out that the evidence presented indicated that records were kept in proper fashion. J. Marvin Unwin, speaking as a private citizen, presented the recent report of the city auditor and quoted the auditor's opinion that procedures were properly carried out.

The Jaycees called off their regular meeting to attend the Commission session. Among the citizens speaking were R. Y. Creech, Sr., J. H. Livingston, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Young and innumerable others who asked that the Commission present charges more substantial than what Livingston described as "trivial."

Purchase Orders

Unwin questioned City Treasurer Carlton on his evidence of unsigned purchase orders, and the meeting very nearly broke up when Carle apologized for not having signed a purchase order for a hospital bill in curbed for a Negro prisoner. A policeman had shot the prisoner, said Carle, "and I know the officer was going to shoot him I would have written a purchase order first."

It was after the 3-2 vote that the audience, of whom only those in the front row heard the motion, suddenly realized that Carle was fired.

Crowd Surges

The crowd surged from its seats toward the Commission, and indignantly formed a horseshoe around the platform. Mrs. Ruth Wedgworth, A. L. Mul-tach, and E. D. Humphries were among several dozen people asking the Commission to reconsider its action and to listen to the public as represented at the meeting.

Finally, as the press of the crowd increased, the Commission went into a huddle, and emerged with Rabin as spokesman. He said the motion stood, but that the session tonight will receive Carle as "Joe Doakes or anybody else", and try to work out an arrangement whereby the disagreements between several commissioners, department heads, and Carle might be ironed out.

No Press, Public

"We are not going to bar the public, and we are not going to bar the press, we're just asking them not to come," said Rabin. Carle, as the meeting broke up, asked that there be a city charter revision specifically naming the duties of the city manager, and at least a year's contract.

As Mayor Rabin put it, "After our meeting tonight, we either will have a new city manager, or we will advertise for a new one."

PAHOKEE TEEN TOWN STARTS

BY MIRIAM DULANY
PAHOKEE — Teen Town, sponsored for the past two years by the Pahokee Parent-Teacher Association, will be officially reopened next Friday night, Dec. 10, at 8 o'clock in the Pahokee Elks building.

The teen age center is designed for the youth of Pahokee and Canal Point ages 13 through 19 years. It has been moved from the legion building which was donated to the PTA for its activities, but which became too small when a partition was later put into the hall.

Thus the center has been moved to a larger building, with two organizations actively supporting the project.

All parents are invited and urged to attend the opening Friday night and view the new location and its facilities which include a large hall, a TV room and spacious game room, all attractively furnished.

A special program will be presented on the opening night for the benefit of the parents, with W. A. Slauter and Mrs. John A. (Continued on Page 8)

GLADES GROWTH CHANGES HOURS

BELLE GLADE — Another indication of Glades growth was brought to light today with the announcement by Hugh J. Bratley of the Everglades Federal Savings and Loan Association's new hours for receipt of loan payments and additions to savings accounts.

Bratley, executive vice president of the company, announced that beginning December 10 checks for loan payments and savings accounts must be in the association office prior to 4:30 instead of 5 p.m. so that cash may be balanced by closing time.

With nearly $7,000,000 in the association, Bratley feels that the association has been of continuing value to the people of the Lake Okeechobee area. He said that the office will continue to close at 5 p.m. but that the efficiency of business requires the loan and savings departments to end their day at 4:30 p.m.

C-C BOARD IN BUSY SESSION

BELLE GLADE—Closing of the books for the fiscal year ending Nov. 30, plans to cooperate with the planning board in a cleanup program, and the announcement of production of a new 3-color brochure were among items on the agenda of the Belle Glade Chamber of Commerce directors Wednesday night.

The board accepted the advertising committee's plans for a three-color 16-page brochure to feature "Belle Glade, the City of Black Gold." The advertising committee will be responsible for supplying new wire display racks for the brochures at public points.

Secretary Edwin Young reported on the recent state C of C meeting at Miami, and Mrs. Mary Foy on the 40th anniversary dinner of the West Palm Beach chamber.

ED. NOTE: WHEN OBSERVER Editor Valerie Vondermuhl, of New York City, wrote of plans for a world-circling vacation, we asked her to record some of her impressions and drop them in whatever mailbox she found. What the mail brought this week follows.

BY VALERIE VONDERMUHL

London, England
In planning our trip we had figured on skipping the nearer parts of the world, but in due course we would be solvent enough to plan another foreign vacation.

So, after Pakistan, we headed for an overnight stop in Beirut, Lebanon and a day in Cairo before going to Switzerland and London for two short visits.

As it turned out we swept through the Middle East with even less exposure to the countries or the people than we had expected. Those three days were a blueprint of how not to travel. Not that we disgraced ourselves but we certainly remained almost as ignorant of Beirut and Cairo as we were before we left New York.

In Beirut we fell in with friends of friends the moment we walked into the moment we swept us off to a pleasant dinner and an evening of talk. It could have been a profitable evening since the coming trip somehow we just couldn't remember any details of the conversation the next morning. So all we can report is that many Beirut streets are narrow and that the road to the airport was the best we had seen since leaving San Francisco.

Tut Collection

In Cairo we did a little better and spent one fascinating morning in the museum looking at the famous collection of objects found in the tomb of Tutankhamen, king of ancient Egypt who lived in the second century B.C. It would take days to see everything properly but we had three hours before the museum closed. We could just barely see the Pyramids in the distance from our hotel window and for a while it looked as though that would be as close as we would get. We had met up with some friends and colleagues from New York who happened to be staying in the same hotel and it seemed like fun to fraternize with them than try our luck with a dragoman — the local name for a guide.

However, the night we were due to leave for Switzerland we all dined at a night club not far from the Pyramids. At about the time we had been heading back into town it was decided that we had to see the Sphinx, so on we drove. It was pitch black but never mind, we can say we SAW the Pyramids. Actually, we suspect that we wouldn't have gotten much more out of those days in any case. We had reached a point where the thing we wanted to do most was get home, unpack and cook our own breakfast for a change. We had had the same feeling on our last U. S. vacation. After five and a half weeks which had taken us through 32 states, all at once somewhere along the New Jersey Turnpike we were sick of driving. Those last 50 miles were endless.

Swiss Family

Our next stop was Switzerland where I had a lot of family to visit. We landed in Zurich and went on to Basel by train the next morning. After two months of flying we felt like a couple of kids on an outing.

The car was spanking clean and we had a compartment to ourselves. The hour and a half trip took us past pleasant farms and quiet valleys. It was a crisp autumn morning, the trees were touched with browns and yellows and here and there a bit of ground fog curled off the rivers. Inevitably we went through a tunnel and passed a Swiss lone hand, it won't help Florida. But, can he step in line and work with his Florida colleagues—all Democrats? They probably would welcome him, as long as he did his own thinking. But after all, he will have a great many Republicans—including the Republican National Committee—trying to tell him what to do. And he won't have any wise old Republican head from Florida to help him. A ticklish job—much, many eyes watching him work it out.

STILL AT IT? If persistence counts, then Congressman Syd Herlong will be one of the new Democrats on the Ways and Means Committee. We mentioned before that he would like to make it—and this he was working on getting the job. But that was just the beginning. When he goes after something, he really works at it. He is button-holing colleagues in the halls, the barber shop, the cafeteria, and even the gym. He claims he already has enough pledged votes—but he still is trying to line up more. "You never can tell about politics," he said. "Some of them might say they'll vote for you and then not do it. I want to play safe. So, I extend my hand to my fellow who just got back in town—I'll see you later."

NEW WORD FOR POLITICKING? When "Mr. Billy Matthews headed South the first of this week, he had before him two weeks of speaking engagements in his District. Six of these he had listed as "major" talks. When another Congressman asked him what he was going back home for, Billy said he was going to do a bit of "intensive visiting."

TURN ABOUT—Two weeks ago, baby Congressman Bartle Fell came to town and rented a home for his family. Last week, his secretary, John R. Buckley, came to town on the same mission. Buckley took the easy way out and rented the same house that Billy Wilcox, predecessor, is vacating. Wilcox is planning to stay here until the middle of December to help Buckley settle in. Then the job, then will go back to Miami—and a job in a Miami Springs bank.

NO PROTEIN — NO PRODUCTION

"There is no way of short-changing a cow on protein and still have a cow that will produce a calf every year. A cow short of protein will tend to have a calf one year and skip the next. She has to do this because she needs to recuperate and build body stores in order to conceive and give birth to another calf. This is nature's way of protecting her against the lack of protein."

Being in a state of traumatic shock, I am going to have very little to say this week.

Which should be a great relief to just about everybody. My shock was brought on by the other midnight when I was awakened from a sound sleep by No. 1 boss. She had locked herself out of the house and I was in the sack, securely snoring.

Well, there was a crash, and a scuffling noise, and through the doorway swinging door Lisa and I use to enter the porch, entered the boss.

Now considering this door, located at floor level, is 15 inches wide and 13 1-2 inches high, you may know I never expected to find anybody's boss slipping through it.

Lisa—and I, shaken as we were, rushed up and licked the boss's face as she was halfway through, and for a time, she thought she was stuck. Then our assisting friend, Helen Fennell, moved the garbage can and the boss got through.

She moved sedately through the porch, into the house, and unlocked the door to admit our city-type friend.

They both went and awakened Boss No. 2, to relate this feat of entering through the dog-door. Oh nuts, said the sleepy boss, and she can get through the dog-door. And she grumpily went back to sleep.

Next day she went on a diet. Brooding blackly the first three days of this week, Boss No. 2 faced 1200 calories a day like a woman.

But the other night she got up without a word (highly unusual) and stalked to the door, carrying a ruler.

Pretty soon there was that same scuffling sound, and Boss No. 2 went through our dog-door.

She snapped the ruler in two for joy, tore up the calorie book, and ate a big bowl of buttered popcorn.

Now everything but me is back to normal at our house.

Dear Editor:

A recent change in the Social Security Act has created a temporary emergency situation in your area serviced by our District Offices. As you know, one of these changes requires a farm employer to withhold social security tax on each of his employees who earn over $100 in a calendar year while employed by him. This change is effective January 1, 1955.

As you are well aware, there are literally thousands of farm workers in your area who do not even have social security account number cards, because they have previously been required of few farm workers.

In order to relieve this situation, we are planning to have a crew of at least five or six of our field men in the Glades area for the sole purpose of assisting the farm laborers in making application for their social security account number cards.

The attaches are their operating schedule for the period beginning December 6 and ending December 22.

Any assistance that you can give in publicizing this schedule will be greatly appreciated. Sincerely yours, R. C. Gehrken, Jr. District Manager

ROBSEVATIONS

By BENJAMIN S. ROBERTS

BORDERS AND BALANCES

In 1823 on December 2nd James Monroe said that, "The American continents—are henceforth not to be considered as subjects for future colonization by any European powers."

And in 1823, with the help of the British Navy, the United States was able to make the doctrine valid. The world took notice and Russia, the one nation in particular against which the doctrine was directed, made no more inroads in this hemisphere.

Today the world has so changed that the United States feel it inadvisable to assert itself to the extent of blockading the coast in retaliation for the imprisonment of 13 United States citizens held captive in China. Held captive at the best of the Russian power.

The century and a quarter between 1823 and now has encountered the rise of European powers upon the alliances made necessary by Napoleon. This period has seen the stretching and encroaching power of European nations in the Far East. It has witnessed the decline and fall of ancient China and the influence of the West.

With the passing of the years the dependent nations in the Orient came to seek freedom from the nations of Europe. With the rise of the Far East, a doctrine was let loose which was used as a lever to bring these discontented peoples into the orbit of Russia. By offering Far-Eastern dependent peoples apparent freedom from their rulers, the Russians absorbed them one by one.

Meanwhile the United States became a world power by the end of the 19th Century, and the predominant power in the world by the middle of the 20th century.

The menace of Russia in the Far East has reached far beyond Asiatic land areas and is involving American citizens who pitted their lot with Asiatics wise enough to see the fallacy of Russian Communism and the wisdom in Western Ideology as expressed by the United States.

The balance of World politics is so delicate today that no one nation in combination with another dares draw a blockade line.

Our refusal to blockade China is not motivated by weakness. It is rather a refusal to use our strength at a moment in history when that very strength might un-balance World politics and bring war upon the world.

The program for young people during the month of December will feature a breakfast for the young people to be served at 7:30 at the church on Dec. 6, 7, and 8. There will be a time of worship of song and meditation with Rev. Mr. Garrett, Mrs. Mr. and Mrs. Milby in charge. The young people will be out in time for school each morning.

A special radio broadcast is being conducted by Mrs. J. M. Garrett and Mr. Milby this Saturday at 9:45 Thursday through Sunday, over radio station WFLA. This broadcast will feature Mr. Milby singing gospel songs.

Rev. Mr. Garrett has announced the addition of Mrs. J. M. Willis to the church staff as director of music. Mrs. Willis was for three years choir director of the West Hazlet Presbyterian Church in Raleigh, N. C. She served for several years as youth choir director and as director of religious education at the Church of the Good Shepherd in Raleigh. During this time she was also soprano soloist. Plans call for the development of three choirs, namely, the chancel choir, youth choir and the junior choir. It is hoped that all of these choirs will be robed and ready to sing in the new sanctuary which is to be ready Palm Sunday. At that time Dr. Clara M. Cotton, of West Palm Beach, district superintendent, will hold Holy Week services.

Going—Going—
But Not Gone!

Saturday they got set to auction off "Sis" Brown's house for non-payment of taxes. Buck Stone was the auctioneer. Everybody who came to the auction knew that "Sis" is a war widow.

When Buck began the bidding he said, "Anybody can bid. Just remember 'Sis' and three nice kids live here. Now who's going to start the bidding?"

There was silence. "Sis," standing in back, got the point. She reached into her purse for just about all the money she had in the world. "T'll bid $75," she said.

"Sold," bellowed Buck and "Sis" had her home back.

From where I sit, Buck Stone used a helping hand instead of a gavel. It was real neighborliness. You know, even in something as small as respecting another's choice of beverage, a person can be neighborly. You might like buttermilk. I'm "sold" on a temperate glass of beer. And I can't "buy" anyone's telling me I'm wrong.
